

New BBQ in town

Charcoal BBQ with integrated rotating lid

If you use space, be clever about it

Design bbq that takes a modest amount of room. The HEAT R bbq features an integrated rotating lid which, when not in use, takes its position within the barbecue's frontage. When roasting/smoking is required, simply rotate the hood from underneath the barbecue and in to place above the grill.

The lid can be locked in position ¼ opened while doing indirect cooking with the same result as fully closed. This way you will be able to see what you are cooking without opening the lid and losing heat.

Comes with integrated thermometer and wheels for easy moving of the unit.
